COAST RAIL SEPARATION PLAN ASKED

County Planning Body Asks No Crossings At Surface

Demand that the Ocean Shore railroad build overhead passages or subways over all county roads the line will cross on the coastside will be made by the San Mateo County Planning Commission.

This was learned today when a resolution, to be presented to the California State Railroad Commission, was shown the board of supervisors. The resolution had been passed by the planners Friday.

It was felt by the planning commission that rebuilding of the railroad would result in numerous crossings over roads which provide access to the beaches and would cause "serious and increasing menace to the public safety" if grade separations were not provided.

Hugh Pomeroy, advisor to the planners, also revealed that he had learned the directors of the Ocean Shore Railway, now in process of being rebuilt, had not as yet made application to the state railroad commission for a certificate to operate or for grade crossing rights-of-way, two essentials if the road actually is to be rebuilt.

Construction of grade separation projects will greatly increase cost of the reconstruction of the old road, but will provide safety for motorists on the coast roads.

The resolution passed by the planners said in part that the railroad "should not be constructed at grade across any public highway, street or road, but that such construction, if it takes place, should be only at separated grades with such highways, streets and roads as, according to a comprehensive street and highway plan for the coast section of the county, are necessary for the service and development of the coast section and for the provisions of adequate access to the beaches of the county."

The railroad commission will be asked by the county for opportunity to present its views in event an application is filed for construction of crossings.

Scott Dodges As Deposition Sought By Foe

Purpose of Marshall's Suit Seen; Kellogg To Approve Span

While County Executive Walter Kellogg consented to recognize Carl R. Scott as county engineer until the courts determine legal title to the office, attorneys for Urban S. Marshall made a new move in the suit to have their client declared engineer.

The attorneys secured an order from Superior Judge A. R. Cotton to take a deposition from Scott. The deposition, according to papers filed in the action, is to be taken Friday at 10 a.m. before Edward J. Ryan as notary public.

Notice of the deposition must be served on Scott by tomorrow night, but attorneys attempting to find Scott to serve the papers on him were unsuccessful today.

Apprised of the new action, Attorney Fred W. Comba, counsel for Scott, said, with a smile on his lips, "Well, they have to serve Scott personally, don't they?"

He refused to say where Scott was, but the implication was that he would be a difficult man for a process server to find. Scott was not in the engineer's office, out of which he was put Wednesday only to recapture it last Saturday.

PURPOSE EXPLAINED

Observers expressed the opinion upon hearing of the deposition that the reason for Marshall's suit, filed yesterday, for an injunction to keep Scott and Sheriff James J. McGrath from the engineer's office and to adjudge Marshall as legal engineer, was solely to secure the deposition.

Depositions, it was pointed out, can be used to impeach trial testimony if discrepancies are noted.

Attorney Comba, who will be permitted to listen to the taking of Scott's deposition, if indeed it is taken, said he would object to its being given by Scott in the presence of Notary Public Ryan because Ryan is a member of the Bullock & Hallinan firm, representing Marshall. Comba also declared he would likely advise Scott not to answer questions if he felt they were not justified.

AGREE ON BRIDGE

Comba and Executive Kellogg conferred harmoniously in the latter's office on Wednesday over the Lobitos creek bridge project which Scott was ordered to build.

Following the conference Kellogg signed requisitions for materials for the Lobitos bridge, which will be constructed as soon as lumber for the span can be obtained.

Kellogg said, preceding the conference, he would approve plans for the bridge and the purchase of materials to be used in its construction "as soon as the proper legal procedure can be worked out."

Peninsulans To Get Same Wage As S. F.

SERA Workers Go On Dole Thursday in Job Delay

Heeding protests of the county relief committee, the board of supervisors, city councils and labor unions, the division of labor management of the Works Progress Administration today decided San Mateo county workmen would be paid the same scale as are San Francisco WPA workers, Capt. L. G. McAloney, county relief director, was informed.

While the decision will not help county workers immediately, since the WPA projects are being delayed and all relief workers go on the "dole" tomorrow night, when the new works program is started, San Mateo county men will get wages ranging from $55 to $94 a month instead of from $44 to $69.

Will J. French, director of the division of labor management of the WPA, informed Captain McAloney that the County of San Mateo has been determined to be an urban area contiguous to San Francisco, hence the raising of the scale equal to that given San Francisco.

WAGE SCALE TOLD

It had been planned to pay a maximum of $44 a month for unskilled workers, $50 for intermediate laborers, $63 for skilled labor and $69 for professional and technical men. The new scale will be $55, $65, $85 and $94. Workers will not labor more than eight hours a day nor more than 140 hours a month, under the present plans.

Plans were being speeded, Captain McAloney said, to obey the mandate of State Administrator Frank Y. McLaughlin to shut down the SERA work program tomorrow except those projects which, if closed, would present a public danger.

Under this head is expected to come sewer projects such as those underway in Burlingame and Memorial Park.

First unit of the Woodside ditch project at Redwood City has now been completed, consequently will not be affected.

DOLE PAYS LESS

While closing of SERA will mean a vacation for the workers, they will get 15 per cent less pay under direct relief. Funds for the relief are expected to be furnished by the state.

Some hope that the shutdown would not materialize was given however, with announcement in San Diego by Robert H. Hinckley, assistant relief administrator for the United States. According to the Associated Press, Hinckley declared:

"The reports (of the shutdown) are false. Much confusion has arisen because of these erroneous reports that the SERA will shut down. The SERA will not shut down."

Hinckley, second in executive position at Washington to Harry L. Hopkins, said that, temporarily, a certain number of work projects which have been directed by the SERA will be suspended until the WPA can be organized to supervise them.

ONE-SEVENTH AFFECTED

"But this will affect only about one-seventh of all people on relief now," Hinckley said.

Captain McAloney said, however, the only instructions he had had from McLaughlin were repeated today in orders to close all projects possible by tomorrow night.

H. A. R. Carleton, director of federal transient service, served notice also that no more applications for federal aid will be accepted from transients in California effective tomorrow.

How City Became Liable:

COUNCIL EXPLAINS 1915 ACT PROBLEM

Voters Told Purpose of $425,000 Bond Issue On Special Ballot September 24th To Meet Old Street Debt

[EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of news articles which The Tribune will present to explain the purpose of the $425,000 bond issue which will go before the voters September 24 to refund the 1915 improvement act debt. It is vitally important that each article be read carefully so the voter may exercise his best judgment at the election.]

In order to clarify the minds of the citizens of Redwood City in regard to the city's liability under the 1915 Bond Act, the following is an example of the manner in which that liability became a city debt, and therefore a debt of each and every taxpayer.

A parcel of land is subject to an assessment for street improvements in the amount of $1,000, which represents the unpaid balance of the cost of certain street work assessed against the particular parcel.

In order to provide an easy installment method to pay for this work, bonds were issued under the 1915 Street Improvement Bond Act which permitted property owners to spread the cost over a 10-year period, paying one-tenth annually with interest at 7%.

The first installment due, within one year, is represented by the interest charge of 7% on $1,000, which is $70, and one-tenth of the principal, or $100, making a total assessment installment of $170.

OWNER FAILS TO PAY; CITY TAKES IT OVER

This property owner fails to pay his installment. The property is sold for taxes, at which sale no outside bidder is present and the city becomes the owner, and thereby assumes the responsibility for the indebtedness or lien against the property.

The city must, and it is legally liable to, immediately pay into the Special Assessment Fund any General City Fund money available the delinquent $170, which is then distributed to the 1915 act bondholder.

Conditions which bring about a large general tax delinquency also tend to deflate property values. Under those conditions, no one wants to buy this lot for $170, plus the penalty, plus the interest, and subject to the unpaid balance of the special assessment lien which amounts to $900.

Six months later an interest installment of $31.50 (one half of the year's interest rate of 7% on the unpaid balance of $900) becomes due. The city has to pay this installment out of the General Fund.

In another six months the next installment of $31.50 falls due, together with a principal installment of $100, or a total of $131.50. The city, under the provisions of the 1915 Bond Act, is liable for this payment out of General Fund moneys.

And so on, until the full assessment of $1,000, plus interest, is fully paid, unless a buyer can be found who will take over and pay all the accumulated delinquencies, plus penalties and interest, and will take title subject to the unpaid balance of the assessment.

CITY MUST ASSESS SPECIAL LEVIES

For the purpose of providing the necessary funds, if there are no General Fund balances, or surplus moneys available, the city must include in the new General Tax Rate a Special Levy up to 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for each assessment district to provide sufficient funds to meet its 1915 Act Bond obligation.

In effect, the entire city becomes liable for any and all series of 1915 Act Special Assessment Bonds outstanding which are in default on either bond interest and/or principal.

The extent of this liability becomes apparent when it is realized that there are about 35 improvement districts in Redwood City, more or less in default, which could fix a maximum legal liability on the city, and therefore on all the taxpayers of the entire city, to a special tax levy of $3.50 per $100 of assessed valuation each and every year so long as these improvement bonds are in default.

COUNCIL PROPOSES EASIER WAY OUT

This general liability of the city actually existing, and with no legal escape available, the council has concluded that if the city must take over and pay this debt it should do so on a more economical basis than the present interest charge of 7%—particularly when it can hire money for 3½% to 4% at this time.

To assume the present outstanding improvement bonds and pay 7% interest is viewed as an extravagant and wasteful use of taxpayers' money.

So the council proposed, and the voters are asked to approve, a bond issue which will effect this interest saving and avoid the necessity of levying large increases in the tax rates over the next several years, will fulfill the city's obligations at less cost to the taxpayers, will permanently correct the existing difficulties, and permit the adjustment of the delinquency special assessments on a fair, just and equitable basis to the benefit of all citizens and taxpayers.

Failure to vote this bond issue, the council points out, will not relieve the city of its liability, but will fix a much greater cost on all the taxpayers.

BRIDGE GETS SAFEGUARD

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A special permit will be required to transport explosives across the San Francisco Oakland Bay Bridge now under construction.

GROCERY STORE-Y

Days of the cracker barrel and the cast iron stove have been left far behind in modern grocery merchandising.

In celebrating the twentieth anniversary of Safeway Stores, Inc., this month, officials of the company checked through old files to find examples of the popular stores of a generation ago. The photograph in the upper right hand corner shows one of the "top notch" grocery outlets of the earlier period.

In the larger picture, below, is shown one of the company's newer stores, replete with the highest quality merchandise and the latest equipment to assure proper sanitation and utmost convenience.

The original Safeway store was opened in the Summer of 1915, in American Falls, Idaho. Its founder was Reverend S. M. Skaggs, who planned the store to cut down the high cost of living for members of the little pioneer community. His son, M. B. Skaggs, later took over the management of the store. It was only after many years of thrift and privation that the business finally reached a basis from which gradual expansion was possible.

Besides saving millions of dollars in food costs annually for its customers and furnishing employment for 17,000 persons, Safeway has also become the most important outlet for leading Western farm products.

No Motor Trouble Here

These followers of the elusive trout found that even after driving 200 miles they could not reach the desirable spots. They were compelled to abandon their motor and take to horses and pack mules. Scene illustrated is 12 miles from nearest automobile, and is reached only by an extremely narrow pack-trail through the mountains. It is situated on beautiful Eel River in Mendocino County, which stream is a small edition of the Feather River. P. S.—They did catch fish, and according to report—even though the car wouldn't take them all the way—they carried in "Mobilgas" for use in camp stove and lamp.

CITY RATE SET AT $1; 35c ADDITIONAL ADDED IN TWO SPECIAL ITEMS

30 Cents Is Included To Meet 1915 Bond Interest Debt

Fixing the rate at $1 per $100 for ordinary purposes, or a 3-cent reduction, and including 30 cents for meeting interest on the 1915 street improvement act debt and 5 cents for a drainage project, the city council last night set the 1935-36 tax rate at $1.35 per $100 in "old town."

The "annex" will pay $1.342 and South Redwood and Carmelita Manor, $1.165.

Rates were submitted by City Manager E. A. Rolison and were approved by unanimous vote of the six councilmen present. Councilman James Eva was absent. Council approval was voted upon motion of Councilman Robert Jones, seconded by Councilman George McNulty.

All three rates are subject to a 20-cent reduction in the event the $425,000 bond issue for refunding the 1915 act debt is carried September 24. This would make the "old town" rate $1.15; the "annex," $1.142, and South Redwood, $.965.

BELIEVED LOWEST

The $1 per $100 basic rate for ordinary purposes is 3 cents lower than the tax rate of $1.03 per $100 of the past year.

The rate had been cut to 99 cents per $100 by City Manager Rolison, but the council increased the amount to $1 to provide the salary for one extra paid fireman to bring about savings of $7,000 in fire insurance rates. It is believed to be the lowest basic rate in the city's history.

The $1.35 rate, which includes the 30 cents for 1915 bonds and 5 cents for the drainage project, is 17 cents higher than last year's rate of $1.18, which included 15 cents for 1915 bond act interest.

But the 20-cent reduction if the 1915 refunding bond plan is carried, will bring the rate to $1.15, or 3 cents lower.

FEDERAL AID PROJECT

The 5 cents placed into the budget for the drainage project will provide a storm water system for the Hopkins-Whipple area. The project will be constructed at its "big end" along the Bayshore highway.

The council decided to secure some of the federal money now available, after Councilman George McNulty said that citizens here no doubt would be required to help pay off the national debt and some benefits should be enjoyed from it.

The 5 cents will raise $6,000 to go with about $26,000 to be donated from federal funds.

Redwood City's public works program is very conservatively outlined, with only the drainage project listed as a work relief proposal.

HOW RATE MADE UP

The $1.35 rate is made up of the following parts: 28 cents per $100 for bond interest and redemption; 10.5 cents for library; 30 cents for 1915 bond interest, and 66.5 for general purposes.

Anticipated expenditures for the coming year total $171,248.08 as compared to the $175 501.55 budget for last year. For general purposes, $120,888.60 is asked, as compared to $122,227.26 last year. Bonds and interest will account for $31,759.48; public library, $12,600, and unbudgeted reserve, $6,000, besides sewer, $6,000, and 1915 bonds, $36,000. If the refunding plan carries, the $361,000 will be cut to $12,000. Last year bonds and interest took $35,900.29; public library, $11,583, and unbudgeted reserve, $5,791.

Of the revenues estimated for the coming year; general levy of taxes will provide $66,600; miscellaneous revenue, $42,454.49; cash on hand July 1, $11,834.11; bonds and interest tax levy, $31,759.48; public library tax levy, $12,600, and unbudgeted reserve tax levy, $6000.

Council agreement that the tax rate would be cut 20 cents if the September 24 refunding plan is approved was voted upon motion of Councilman Louis Christensen, seconded by Councilman McNulty.

Rates approved last night will be finally adopted by the council on September 3.

SALARY QUESTION UP

While other cities were reported to be restoring salaries subjected to reductions during the lean years, the city council decided last night against such a policy here because of the 1915 act debt problem.

The board put over for two weeks the acceptance of the deed to the Rogers street extension. The Tacoma Mill Company offered the deed providing the firm would not be subject to a street assessment within two years if the property is deeded.

John Gill was reappointed as a member of the city planning commission upon motion of Councilman Christensen, seconded by Councilman Evans Fletcher.

C. G. Uhlenberg was reappointed city auditor for the new year at a cost of $425 on motion of Councilman Christensen, seconded by Councilman Robert Jones.

White Collar Group In Price Protest

Protest against beef and pork prices was voiced by the White Collar League at its meeting this week in adopting a resolution threating to use substitutes if prices are not lowered. The protest was voiced by wives and sisters of the league members.

Many new applications were received for admission to the league and letters from several governmental officials pledging sympathetic co-operation to the league attaining the object for which they are organized, placing of members "back on the old job' as far as possible, were reported.

The next meeting of the league will be on Tuesday, September 3, at Burlingame.

PLANE JOINS O'BRIEN HUNT IN SIERRAS

San Matean Believed Hopelessly Lost Near Yosemite

A forest service fire patrol plane from Oakland today joined the search for Harry O'Brien, San Mateo fisherman now believed hopelessly lost in the wilds east of Sonora, according to an Associated Press dispatch to The Tribune.

Orville Burnett, assistant supervisor of the Stanislaus National Forest, was aboard the plane. The ship was to cruise over the area, and if O'Brien is sighted, it will report at Sonora for searchers to concentrate.

Searchers were led by John Meyers and John Rosasco, county cattlemen, who moved into the McGill Meadows of Yosemite National Park hoping to find a trace of O'Brien. Continued traces of the man appeared showing he was hopelessly lost as trails recrossed themselves.

Campfire remnants were located, but two bloodhounds had failed to pick up O'Brien's trail because the heat had weakened the scent.

FIREHOUSE PROGRESSES

BELMONT, Aug. 21.—The new firehouse at Belmont is 20 per cent complete. The building is being framed this week ready for stucco. Insurance covering the new fire house for the three months' construction has been taken out. An extensive program is being outlined for the dedication and formal opening of the building.

Marshall Files Suit to Settle Title to Office

Action Ignores Other Suits; McGrath, Scott Named

Bristling with terms of "force," "arms" and "violence," a new suit in the engineering controversy was filed in superior court here today by Urban S. Marshall, county engineer-appointee.

Coming as the latest move in the "in again, out again, you sue me and I'll sue you" dispute, the suit seeks an injunction against Carl R. Scott and Sheriff James J. McGrath.

The complaint ignores the fact that Scott, now in physical possession of the engineer's office, already has secured a temporary restraining order keeping Marshall from the engineer's office. It also ignores the appellate court suit scheduled for hearing Monday.

TWO REMEDIES ASKED

In the complaint, filed through Attorneys Vincent W. Hallinan, Joseph J. Bullock and William F. Herron, two remedies are sought:

1. That the court settle title to the office by ruling that Marshall is the "duly appointed, qualified and acting county engineer."

2. That Scott and McGrath be enjoined from "interfering with plaintiff in the conduct" of his office and from entering the office.

The suit charges that on August 16 Scott and McGrath "unlawfully and with force and arms" ejected Marshall from the engineer's office. (Scott's "recapture" of the office actually occurred on August 17).

It also charged that public works needed by the county are being hampered by Scott's keeping the office.

FORCE, VIOLENCE "FEARED

Fear is expressed in the complaint that Scott and Sheriff McGrath "will forcibly continue in possession of the offices . . . and interfere by force and violence" with Marshall.

Marshall will be "constantly and daily interrupted and violently prevented from performing" his duties unless the injunction is given, the complaint charges.

Filing of the suit indicates Marshall's forces believe the restraining order secured Sunday night by Scott's attorneys from Judge R. R. Syer of Santa Clara county is invalid.

Attorneys Fred Comba and Ernest Wilson, counsel for Scott, scoffed at the idea of the suit, and although admitting Marshall could file any kind of suit he wanted, declared they believed the action would be dismissed by A. R. Cotton, before whom it is to be heard, in view of the restraining order already issued.

Scott, meanwhile was reported attempting to locate the county engineer's Pontiac coupe, seized last week from the street by Urban S. Marshall to complete the "coup" of last Wednesday.

Shop-Lifting Rife In Northend Stores

BURLINGAME, Aug. 19.—Forty cases of petty thievery, mainly shop-lifting, in Burlingame during the past 29 days, caused Judge Rockwell Stone to issue an ultimatum he would make examples of any such cases to appear before him in the future. Special and city policemen would be carefully watching for shop-lifting, he declared.

For stealing a can of boneless chicken, E. H. Hutchinson, South San Francisco salesman, was given a 10-day suspended sentence and put on six months' probation today. He had pleaded guilty to the charge.

'Dobbsie' Gives Club Will Rogers Glimpse

Hugh Barrett Dobbs, manager of the queen contest for the San Mateo County Floral Festival, was the principal speaker at the Redwood City Kiwanis Club today. After making an announcement and request for the club to sponsor a queen in the festival, "Captain Dobbsie" gave a short talk on intimate glimpses of Will Rogers as he knew him.

Dobbs stated that he had had the good fortune of becoming a personal friend of Rogers, having met him at the home of Mary Pickford and later flown in the same plane with Rogers while traveling.

Herman Philips was chosen to represent the local club at the Kiwanis division meeting in the annual oratorical contest to be held next month in San Mateo. The winner of the contest will be sent to the district conventon in Monterey to compete for state honors. Philips gave his talk before the club on "Adult Education as an Aid to Social Security."

Rev. Norman Pendleton acted as chairman of the day.

Paul Lowe Tells Of Eagles' Confab

Word received today from Paul Lowe now at Dayton, O., as a delegate from the local Eagles lodge to the national convention, tells of a parade in which he with 10,000 lodge members marched before 70,000 spectators.

"Oldsters and youngsters alike strutted in the mammoth street spectacle. Ranging in age from 4 years to past 70, they displayed their flying colors and gay uniforms," the message said.

At the installation of the Grand Aerie officers, which closed the session, George Nordlin, St. Paul, Minn., United States senator and a past grand worthy president, assumed the duties of the presidency.

Lowe will remain in the midwest for several weeks more visiting friends and relatives.

Pulitzer's Nephew In Bendix Air Race

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Seward Pulitzer, 24-year-old nephew of the late Joseph Pulitzer, New York World founder, was revealed today as an entrant in the Bendix air race from Los Angeles to Cleveland, August 30.

Pulitzer, a New York aerial advertising man, had been testing a fast low-winger Northrop Delta monoplane secretly for a week. Co-pilot will be Al T. Minto, flying instructor at Roosevelt Field, New York.

After testing a $125,000 racing plane of radical design, Howard Hughes, film producer, changed his mind today and withdrew from the race.

Atherton Valuation Set at $4,810,690

Atherton's real estate and improvements, including utility properties, now bear a total assessable valuation of $4,810,690, according to data received by the Atherton City Council yesterday.

Total anticipated budget requirements will be a municipal tax revenue estimated at $20,485, plus a municipal bond redemption fund of $1,700 for the construction of town buildings, for a total of $22,185. This will mean a corresponding decrease in the tax rate. The rate will be fixed Tuesday.

Reappraisal increased from about $2,500,000 to $4,607,655. Atherton was allocated an additional $203,035 for public utilities, making a total valuation of $4,810,690.

Draining and grading and repair of the asphalt pavement at McKinley school and a general cleaning up, including calcimining, disinfecting and painting, of school buildings has put all the structures in excellent shape for the coming school year.

North Palo Alto Weeds Are Abated

Abatement of noxious and dangerous weeds in North Palo Alto, done under the direction of County Clerk E. B. Hinman, has now been completed, and on Monday he will ask the board of supervisors to approve a resolution apportioning costs against property owners.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SEQUOIA PUPILS GIVEN

Quelling "student" rumors that school would not open Monday because construction work at Sequoia would not be finished, Vice Principal Donald Bogie and Fred Vedder, superintendent of the P. J. Walker Company, said work was practically completed and school would begin as scheduled.

"Anyone who doesn't come to school Monday will start off the year with an absent mark," Bogie said.

Approximately 1,300 students are expected to register the first day of school, according to Mrs. P. B. Cooper, attendance secretary. This will probably be increased to 1,600 pupils by Christmas, she said, which will be an expected increase of 100 students over last year.

This continues the steady growth of the school, which had a registration of 225 in 1920-21, grew to 657 by 1925 and in the past 10 years has developed as follows: 1926-27, 717; 1927-28, 843; 1928-29, 954; 1930-31, 1,168; 1931-32, 1,306; 1932-33, 1,394, and 1934-35, 1,513.

For fall students at Sequoia the following information was issued today by Principal A. C. Argo:

1. Registration will be completed Monday, regular classes starting Tuesday at 8 a. m.

2. Buses will run Monday over the same route and at the same time as the close of last school year, except return trips.

3. Pupils should bring the following fees: Student body dues, $2; towel fee, $2; and deposit on corridor key, 25 cents.

In addition boys pay a 25-cent deposit on their gym locker key and 25 cents boys' league dues.

Sequoia girls' student body dues are 50 cents. Both boys and girls may get a combination lock instead of a key for their gymnasium locker by making a deposit of $1, to be refunded when the lock is returned.

Though these fees are not required it is desirable they be paid, according to Argo. Students who cannot afford to pay them will be given a chance to work them out.

Work left to be done before Saturday at the high school includes completion of the roof over the dance hall in the girls' gymnasium; testing and reinforcing of exterior ornamentation; polishing and waxing of floors and moving in of furniture and equipment. Minor details of cement finishing remain to be completed also on the new stairway installed in the academic building.

Belmont School Ready to Open; Faculty Listed

The auditorium has been redecorated throughout, the floors of the hallways and rooms have been refinished and the building is ready for the opening.

The faculty will include Miss Mabel Crosby, principal; Miss Eillen Russel, Miss Annette Girard and Mrs. Mildred Stebbins. Miss Aida Balaccini, will again have charge of the Howard Foundation School.

Injury to Boy Brings Recklessness Charge

SAN CARLOS, Aug. 21.—Roy B. Gutsch of San Francisco will appear before Police Judge Rupert E. Johnson this evening to answer a charge of reckless driving.

Gutsch was arrested Sunday afternoon by Police Officer Ernest Nelson after his automobile had struck the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Perkins of Windsor drive. The youngster was rushed to the Community Hospital, but other than being badly frightened was unharmed. Fred Hills of the Sierra Realty Company rushed the baby to the hospital.

New York City contains 509 hotels, whose gross income totals more than $165,000,000 annually.

Brisbane in Stop At Mills Airport

SAN MATEO, Aug. 21.—Arthur Brisbane, noted columnist and publisher, arrived at Mills Airport today en route to Shasta county. He was accompanied by Bernard Jimbel and M. C. Meigs, who, with Brisbane publish the Chicago American.

It was also learned at the field that Miss M. Geisler of Palo Alto was to fly to Los Angeles today, and Paul Burke, also of Palo Alto, had bought a ticket to leave tomorrow for Los Angeles. Max Rosenbloom, boxer, will leave on the same plane as Burke.

Twenty-three street name signs were stolen from two streets in Norfolk, Va., in one week.

BAY REGIONAL PLANNER BODY WINS SUPPORT

Local Commissioners Hear Rezoning Protests

Recognition of the proposed bay regional planning commission which is nearing reality has been given by the State Works Progress Administration, Hugh Pomeroy, who originated the idea, reported today.

Pomeroy has been serving on an advisory WPA committee for the coordination of professional and technical projects. L. Deming Tilton, director of state planning and a member of the commitee, told Pomeroy the state planning board would welcome suggestions from the new board and would sponsor projects it proposes.

All bay region counties except Santa Clara have now named representatives on the group.

At last week's meeting of the county planning commission, final approval was given Mrs. M. L. Wilson to establish a maternity and convalescent home on University avenue in East Palo Alto.

First hearing on the proposed rezoning of the property at the corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Marsh road for business met with arguments from people both favoring and opposing the plan. Second hearing will be held September 20.

Plans for the courthouse addition were presented by Architect E. L. Norberg and the floor plans were approved, as to planning features. Approval of the exterior design was left to further deliberation.

On behalf of the harbor board, Percy Shaw, president, discussed with the commissioners the establishment of harbor lines, urging action. The issue is whether the lines should be established back, at or in front of the line of fee title ownership. Members of the commission said they had visited San Diego, Los Angeles and Long Beach's harbors and planned soon to visit Richmond and Stockton, then would take action.

Advisor Pomeroy and Technician Ronald Campbell reported they had been in touch with the rapid transit situation.

Fred Lyster Held On Driving Charge

After his machine allegedly crashed into the parked car of Richard A. Chiappelloni of San Francisco at the corner of Middlefield road and Charter street, Fred Lyster, 41, of Fifth avenue, North Fair Oaks, was arrested at 12:50 a. m. Sunday by Police Officers Flynn and Fleishman on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Booked at the county jail, Lyster, an engineer, posted bail of $500 pending arraignment before Police Judge Edward I. McAuliffe.

Bayshore Crash Kills 2 People; Several Injured

Two people were killed in week-end peninsula accidents, but San Mateo county remained free of traffic fatalities.

Ernest L. Owen, 57, head of the music department of Tamalpais Union High School, and Lupe Pendroza, 36, Mountain View fruit picker, were killed and six persons injured in the crash of two cars on the Bayshore highway near Mountain View.

Severely cut and bruised in the crash were the occupants of the Pedroza car, brothers and sisters of the dead man—Grace, 31; Paul, 29; driver; Peter, 23; Jennie, 17; Eulalio, 14, and Faustino Pedroza, 8.

Jacob Feldman, 68, San Francisco, was in the Villa Sanitarium here suffering from concussion, possible skull fracture and cuts and bruises incurred in a collision yesterday. He was the most seriously injured of a group, composed of Mr. and Mrs. S. Zimmerman, K. Kligirman and David Schwartz, who were returning by car from a service at the Jewish cemetery near Lawndale when their machine crashed with one driven by Lulu Howard, 35, San Francisco. All but Schwartz, who was driving, and Miss Howard needed medical attention.

When their car overturned Sunday George Rotos and Nick Nicoitsas, both of Sacramento, incurred minor injuries. The accident occurred on Skyline boulevard near the Crystal Springs dam. The pair were treated at Mills Memorial Hospital.

Leg and body injuries were suffered by J. Z. Patton of Richmond, passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Pearl Pennington of Richmond, which collided Sunday with a machine driven by Suey Chung Quong, San Francisco, in San Ma-

Odors of Mud Flats Protested to Board

Protest over the "obnoxious odors emanating from the mud flats along the Bayshore highway between the salt ponds and Belmont" was registered with the board of supervisors today in a communication from C. H. Beckwith of Belmont, with a request for advice as to "what steps, if any," the supervisors contemplate for "elimination of this nuisance."

"Whenever the wind is blowing from the east, the inhabitants of this district enjoy the full benefit from the odors emanating from these mud flats," Beckwith wrote.

"Other than personal interest, it appears to me that since the motorists either entering or leaving the county are also inflicted with these obnoxious odors, the opinion formed by them would not be one of which the county could very well be proud."

Chanteloupe Heirs Seek to 'Carry On'

So that the late Marie J. Chanteloup's French Laundry in San Mateo can continue operations, her two surviving children, Adedee A. and Noe J. Chanteloup petitioned the superior court today for letters of administration in her estate. Attorney F. E. Hoffmann represented the Chanteloups in the petition.

Dana Saw Port Need Long Ago

1835 TRADE DIFFICULTIES ARE TOLD

Hide Ship Sailor Recites Woes

SAN JOSE, Aug. 19 — Even in 1835, 100 years ago, San Jose needed a deep water port.

Many years before the discovery of California gold, before a single hut stood on the present site of the great city of San Francisco, this region was the center of the hide industry in California. And lack of harbor facilities for seagoing vessels was a source of much hardship to sailors aboard hide ships here from Atlantic ports.

These facts are disclosed in the famous historical narrative "Two Years Before the Mast," written by Richard Dana in 1859. Dana came to California as a sailor aboard a hide ship in 1834, and was the first to write of this region from personal experience.

CITES NEED FOR PORT

In the winter of 1835 Dana's boat anchored in deep water between Yerba Buena Island and the mainland where San Francisco now stands, to trade for hides at San Jose and Santa Clara, then the most important centers of the hide industry in California. Says Dana:

"A few days after our arrival the rainy season set in, and for three weeks it rained almost every hour without cessation. This was bad for our trade, for the collecting of hides is managed differently in this port from what it is in any other on the coast. The Mission of Dolores, near the anchorage, has no trade at all; but those of San Jose and Santa Clara, situated on the large creeks or rivers which run into the bay, and distant between 15 and 40 miles from the anchorage, do a greater business in hides than any other in California.

"Large boats, or launches, manned by Indians, and capable of carrying from five to six hundred hides apiece, are attached to the missions, and sent down to the vessels with hides, to bring away goods in return.

RAIN SPOILS FUN

"Some of the crews of the vessels are obliged to go and come in the boats to look out for the hides and goods. These are favorite expeditions for the sailors in fair weather; but now, to be gone three or four days in open boats in constant rain, without any shelter and cold food, was hard service.

"Two of our men went up to Santa Clara in one of these boats and were gone three days, during which time they had a constant rain and did not sleep a wink, but passed three long nights walking fore and aft on the boat in the open air.

"All the hides too that came down in the boats were soaked with water and unfit to put below, so that we were obliged to trice them up to dry in the intervals of sunshine or wind upon all parts of the vessel."

ESCAPES TRIP

How little Dana himself relished thoughts of such a trip are shown when he says:

"One cold, rainy evening, about 8 o'clock, I received orders to get ready to start for San Jose at 4 the next morning, in one of the Indian boats, with our days provisions. I got my oil cloths, southwester, and thick boots ready, and turned into my hammock early to get some sleep in advance, as the boat was to be alongside before daybreak.

"I slept on until all hands were called in the morning, for fortunately for me the Indians intentionally, or making a mistake in their orders, had gone off alone in the night and were far out of sight.

"Thus I escaped three or four days of very uncomfortable service."

FORECASTS FUTURE

With what exceptional foresight and vision Dana viewed the San Francisco bay region, then in an absolute state of nature, is shown when he says:

"If California ever becomes a prosperous country, this bay will be the center of its prosperity. The abundance of wood and water; the extreme fertility of its shores; the excellence of its climate, which is as near being perfect as any in the world; and its facilities for navigation, affording the best anchoring grounds in the whole western coast of America—all fit for a place of great importance."

Tenure, Liability Discussions Held

Teachers' tenure and retirement, trustees' liability and school bus service were among the topics touched on Saturday by Alfred E. Lentz, administrative advisor to the state department of education, before representatives of 50 county grammar and high school districts gathered at Sequoia high school for luncheon.

Pansy Jewett Abbott, county school superintendent, presided over the meeting, annual institute of the county trustees. Open discussion followed Lentz' speech. Among those present were Daniel Sullivan, assistant district attorney; Clara Dills, county librarian; Mrs. R. D. Richard of Burlingame, president of the 17th district of the Parent-Teachers' Association; and Mrs. Mona Christensen, deputy probation officer.

Drunk Driver Asks Court for Probation

LAWN DISEASES REMEDIES GIVEN

Commissioner Reveals Brown Patch, Other Treatments

Due to unusual weather conditions, particularly as regards moisture and excessive heat and the late wet spring, San Mateo county lawns are showing many troubles this season, according to Max J. Leonard, county agricultural commissioner.

There are usually four reasons why lawns "go bad," and nearly always the troubles can be traced to one of these, Leonard believes.

First, is improper building of the seed bed with a consequent difficulty in maintaining favorable growing conditions for the grass; second, a disease known as brown patch; third, soil insects that feed on the roots and crowns of the individual grass plants; and fourth, improper handling of the lawn in maintaining it.

"Practically all the fine bladed turf grasses are susceptible to brown patch," Leonard stated. "Bents especially are susceptible.

"There are two separate brown patch diseases, large and small. Large brown patch is caused by a fungus that attacks the leaves, causing them to shrivel and turn brown. This fungus is present everywhere in the soil, but does not become active except under favorable conditions usually induced by hot, muggy weather. Night watering and frequent light watering also favor its development. Excessive watering during hot weather is to be avoided. Long continued use of quick-acting, highly nitrogenous fertilizers inceases the susceptibility of grass to brown patch. Soils that are highly acid favor the development of the fungus. In the latter case, the addition of lime to the soil often gives good results.

"Large brown patch may be differentiated from sodworm injury by the scattered blades of green grass in the brown area, killed by the fungus. Usually only blades are attacked, not the stems, buds or roots. A smoky, blackened ring of grass will appear around the margin of the dead area, enlarging each succeeding day. This represents the freshly attacked area and will later turn brown.

"Small brown patch usually appears in spots limited to the size of a silver dollar. A number of these will be scattered throughout the lawn, giving it a ragged, moth-eaten appearance. The grass is destroyed completely as both blades and roots are attacked, and has a more bleached appearance.

"Large and small brown patch are controlled by the same methods. Several effective commercial fungicides are on the market for this purpose. One sold under the trade name of Calo-Clor has proven most effective for this section, although several others sold for the purpose are satisfactory. Calo-Clor should be applied, using screened soil or sand as a carrier, at the rate of three ounces to 1,000 square feet. To restore turf affected by large brown patch, methods to stimulate growth should be used as the roots are not usually killed and the turf will ofter respond rapidly.

"The insects causing damage are known as sodworms and grub worms. Of the two the sodworms have been doing an increasing amount of damage for several years, killing the grass in large round spots. The last three years their work has been especially severe. The adult of the sodworm is a white and yellowish-brown moth of one-half to three-fourths inch wing-spread. They may be noticed flying low over the lawn around dusk. They are grayish worms, almost one inch when full grown. They are hard to see because they move swiftly and their color blends with that of the soil and dead grass. They feed at the edge of the dead areas, eating just below the crown of the grass.

"They are most active during July, August and September. Among various controls recommended the following has proven most satisfactory:

"Arsenate of lead applied at the rate of one pound per 100 square feet. This is a dry powder and may be applied fairly evenly by putting a few small holes in the bottom of a can and using it as a sifter. After applying, work it into the grass with a heavy push broom or a bamboo rake. Immediately after this, wash the lawn with full nozzle pressure of the hose. Patented sprinklers giving gentle spray are not satisfactory for this.

"When putting in new lawns, sodworms and grub worms may be eradicated by mixing the arsenate of lead with the top three inches of soil four or five days before sowing the grass seed. Use at the rate of five pounds to 1,000 square feet. This sometimes gives protection for several years."

Jenkins Undecided On Next Bond Move

Whether to appeal his case to the supreme court or to drop the fight and get a new $100,000 bond has not as yet been decided by County Treasurer Harry Jenkins, he said today.

Jenkins' bond, held by the American Employers Insurance Company, was ordered cancelled by the circuit court of appeals last week on application of the bonding company.

Jenkins has 60 days in which to appeal before the appellate court's order becomes effective, he said.

Scott Secures Right to Build Disputed Span

Francis, High Desert Witt in Supporting Engineer's Ideas

Capitulating to clamor of protesting taxpayers, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors today recognized County Engineer Carl Scott for the first time in over three months of wrangling and instructed him to build the disputed Lobitos bridge according to his own ideas.

In doing so, the majority of the board also followed the advice of District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell for the first time on a major political controversy.

The board split 4 to 1 on the vote, Supervisor Albert Witt Jr., Colma, still steadfastly refusing to recognize Scott.

MARSHALL ADMISSION

Board action came after County Engineer-Appointee Urban S. Marshall took full responsibility for altering Scott's Lobitos bridge plans before the sets were submitted to bidders.

The purpose of today's adjourned meeting of the board was to settle that one question and the citizens insisted that it be answered.

Supervisor Witt, after conferring with District Attorney Ferrell and being informed the three bids received were illegal, sought to postpone the inquiry.

Chairman Manuel Francis, who with Supervisor Walter High later deserted Witt on the vote, insisted that the hearing go on. So did the citizens by a demonstration of shouts and handclapping.

After Scott and his counsel, Fred Comba, informed the board how the plans had been altered, Marshall took the floor and said he personally was responsible for the changes.

"I took it upon myself to revise the plans as I saw fit," he said, explaining that he took the position that he was just as much the county engineer as Scott.

Jack Reuter, president of the San Mateo County Taxpayers' Protective Association, pressed Marshall to say who had directed him to make the changes. But Marshall said he did it of his own accord.

Reuter said it was an act of "poor sportsmanship."

BIDS RULED OUT

After Marshall's admission, Witt asked Ferrell to rule on the legality of three bids. Ferrell said they were not valid. The board then threw them out upon motion of Supervisor Fred Beer, seconded by Supervisor John Poole, Redwood City.

FERRELL'S ADVICE

Witt insisted on looking at the bids to see if Marshall's contention that a concrete span would be cheaper at Lobitos was true or not. But this privilege was denied.

Beer then moved that the board follow the stern advice of Ferrell "and recognize Scott."

"I'd advise you to recognize Mr. Scott until he is legally removed from office," Ferrell said.

The board, upon second of Supervisor Poole, did so, voting 4 to 1 to recognize Scott for the first time since his attempted ouster April 29.

Before the meeting had warmed up to this action, Attorney Ernest Wilson, one of Scott's counsellors, had demanded that Scott be treated as the rightful holder of the engineering post "and not manhandled in Capone fashion."

Ferrell similarly warned the board that Scott was "entitled to sit pat" until legally removed.

County Executive Walter Kellogg sat silently throughout the proceedings.

Drunken Driver Wins Two Year's Probation

Fred Threlkeld, Redwood City man arrested in San Mateo for driving while intoxicated, was granted two years' probation by Superior Judge A. R. Cotton yesterday. As a condition of the probation, he was given a 20-day term in the county jail, but received credit for the time already served, allowing him to go free at once.
